

PEOPLE'S DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF ALGERIA

Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research

Regional Conference of Eastern Universities

Presentation of the Third-Cycle Training for the Doctorate Degree

Institution:

Emir Abdelkader University of Islamic Sciences

Program Title:

Comparative Fiqh and Its Foundations

Program Supervisor:

Prof. Nadia Razi

Full Program Overview

Activities

Semester 1

Semester 2

Compulsory Courses for Knowledge Enhancement

Contemporary Issues in Fiqh and Its Foundations

Number of sessions: 3 = 3h30

Fiqh of International Relations

Number of sessions: 3 = 3h30

Methodology Courses

Scientific Research Methods in the Field of Islamic Sciences

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

Research Techniques

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

Introductory Courses in Teaching and Pedagogy

Introductory Pedagogy Course

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

Introductory Pedagogy Course

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

Courses in Information and Communication Technologies (ICT)

Information and Communication
Technologies

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

Information and Communication
Technologies

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

Courses for Strengthening Foreign Language Skills

English

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

English

Number of sessions: 3 = 4h30

Seminars

- Seminar in the specialty of Comparative Fiqh and Its Foundations

Number and Title: Seminar in the specialty of Comparative Fiqh and Its Foundations

Important Notes:

- The offered courses are included within the teaching load of research professors.
- The hourly load for knowledge support courses is set at two (02) hours per week. These courses may be organized by each specialty or combined within the same department.
- Courses in Information and Communication Technologies, research methodology, and pedagogy may be shared between departments.
- A doctoral student's logbook is mandatory to record acquired skills and to ensure continuous monitoring of the student. This logbook will be integrated into the digital platform PROGRES.