

Master's Program in Jurisprudence (sharia) and Law

• Program Overview

✓ Do you aspire to become a specialist in Jurisprudence and Law?

This distinguished Master's program in Jurisprudence and Law at the Emir Abdelkader University for Islamic Sciences offers you a unique opportunity to acquire advanced skills combining Islamic jurisprudence and positive law, opening up broad prospects in the field of research and comparative studies between Jurisprudence and Law.

✓ Program Information Institution:

- Academic Institution Emir Abdelkader University of Islamic Sciences
- Faculty: Faculty of Sharia and Economics
- Department: Jurisprudence and Law
- Field of Study: Humanities and Social Sciences
- Specialization: Jurisprudence and Law.
- Duration: Two years, divided into four semesters

✓ Program Objectives

- ✓ Preparing specialists in Jurisprudence and Law.
- ✓ Developing students' academic skills to enable them to pursue postgraduate studies.
- ✓ Providing students with more specialized knowledge in the field of comparative studies between Jurisprudence and Law, within the framework of legal studies at the national, Arab, and international levels.
- ✓ Enhancing scientific research to deepen Islamic and legal studies.

✓ Why Choose This Program?

- ✓ High Academic Competence: Comprehensive training in the field of Islamic jurisprudence and positive law, opening up broad horizons in the systems of Islamic Jurisprudence and Law.
- ✓ Qualification for the Labor Market: Preparing specialists capable of working in fields that require legal or religious knowledge, or in fields that require dual knowledge of Jurisprudence and Law.
- ✓ This is achieved through training in the rulings of Islamic jurisprudence related to human rights issues, the judiciary, the principles of trials and pleadings, and comparing this with positive law, as well as examining international laws, political and constitutional systems, international conventions, and comparing all of this with the provisions of Islamic Sharia.
- ✓ Opportunity to Pursue Scientific Research: Qualifying outstanding students to pursue postgraduate and doctoral studies in human rights.

• Curriculum Highlights

▪ First Year - Master's in Jurisprudence and Law:

➤ First Semester

Shari'a and Economics Faculty

- ❖ Core Courses: Memorization and recitation of the Quran 1, Jurisprudential and Legal Theories 1, Comparative Political Systems, Principles of Islamic Jurisprudence (Ijtihad and Taqlid), Objectives of Sharia.
- ❖ Methodological Courses: Jurisprudential and Legal Schools, Research Methods in Jurisprudence and Law, Banks and Financial Institutions.
- ❖ Exploratory Course: Administrative Disputes, Verses and Hadiths of Rulings, Social Security Law.
- ❖ Horizontal Course: English Language
  - Second Semester
- ❖ Core Courses: Memorization and recitation of the Quran 2, Comparative Law, Jurisprudential and Legal Theories 2, Objectives of Sharia 2, International Systems.
- ❖ Methodological Course: Deduction of Branches from Principles, Named Contracts, Penal System and Prison Reform
- ❖ Exploratory Course: Comparative Fiqh, Partnership Agreement.
- ❖ Horizontal Course: English Language
  - Second Year - Master's in Jurisprudence and Law
  - Third Semester
- ❖ Core Courses: Memorization and recitation of the Quran 3, Public Office, Objective-Based and Judicial Ijtihad, International Humanitarian Law, Comparative Family Law.
- ❖ Methodological Courses: Analysis of Legal Texts, Unnamed Contracts, Interpretation of Texts.
- ❖ Exploratory Course: Conflict and Preponderance, Real Securities.
- ❖ Horizontal Course: English Language.
  - Fourth Semester :
- ❖ Master's Thesis Preparation

• Admission Requirements

Enrollment in the program requires meeting the following conditions:

- ✓ Baccalaureate certificate (or its international equivalent).
- ✓ Bachelor's degree (Licence degree or its equivalent) in a relevant specialization.
- ✓ Proficiency in Arabic, as it is the primary language of instruction. Arabic language training programs are provided for non-native speakers to ensure their academic readiness.